MALE HORMONE HEALTH

As you can see from the graph men are complicated when it comes to balancing testosterone and preventing the elevation of estrogen as we get older.

Cholesterol is the main building block of hormones. It is used by the Adrenal Glands to make DHEA and by the testes to make Progesterone which is eventually turned into Testosterone.

This system is very sensitive to stress loads, low minerals, and toxins that can block these pathways.

Testing lets you know that your hormones are in balance. And the hormone testing helps guide where to go to fix a problem that may be identified.
